ABSTRACT

Systems and techniques relating to software for enterprise change, in particular to merger and acquisition processes and tools for one or more organizations. A method

5   for managing a corporate restructuring of at least two organizations includes presenting a user interface including information relating to consolidating customer accounts for at least one of the restructuring organizations, and presenting a template in the user interface, the template including a

10   rollout template menu, a pull down window, a list of action items, and a status relating to each action item in the list.

20775635.doc